Rules for Participation in the Hi2morrow Training Challenge-Exam.

Welcome, Dear Participant of the Hi2morrow trading demo-exam. Please remember that only individuals who have reached the legal age for employment in their respective country of residence can participate in our challenge. Furthermore, according to our rules, the minimum age must not be less than 18 years old.

We conduct this challenge to identify truly capable, reliable traders, or individuals with clear potential to work in our team. For this purpose, we have chosen long-term performance consistency as the most crucial criterion. Consequently, it does not matter to us how much you can make in a single day (and to eliminate this from the equation, we have implemented the 30% rule; read more about it below or on our website). Accordingly, as you understand, we have established certain limitations, which we view as a path to a trader's consistent profitability. You must agree in advance that you might not be able to trade some of your strategies due to these limitations. Now, let us go through the rules step by step.

1. Our challenge is strictly for intraday trading. We do not support swing trading, overnight holds, pre-market, after-hours, or options trading here. Only intraday stock trading is permitted. This means you cannot leave your trading positions open overnight. Furthermore, you must close all your positions by 15:45 P.M. If your position remains open after this time, it will be closed by a manager. If that position results in a loss, this loss will be added to your total performance (marked as a violation of our terms, which will be considered during the review). If the trade is profitable but the manager has to close it for you, the result of the trade will be voided.
   Accordingly, opening positions is only allowed after the NYSE market opens at 9:30 A.M.

2. If during today's trading you reach your daily loss limit (the total loss limit for a single trading day), you must close your positions. We do not encourage holding on to losing trades, and we will take this into account during the results audit if you pass the challenge.

3. Your main goal is to increase your account balance by the target amount specified in your challenge conditions; the time to complete the challenge is limited according to the terms. Your account balance will be displayed in the upper right corner of your platform, labeled as Equity. For example, if the Equity is 35,000 and the target is $1,500, the moment your account registers an Equity of 36,500 or more with all positions closed, your challenge will be considered passed (provided you have not violated any of our rules, restrictions, or terms, especially the 30% rule!!!). Similarly, an Equity of 70,000 must reach 73,000; 105k must reach 109.5k; 350k must reach 359k, and so on.

4. Closely monitor your compliance with all our challenge rules. Refer to the table.

DEPOSIT is your buying power. We do not restrict you on the number of traded stocks. However, you cannot allocate more than half of your buying power to a single position. Keep a close eye on your daily stop limit; exceeding this loss limit will restrict your trading. Please also note that you are given one month to complete the challenge for beginners, and three months for pros. Most importantly, our challenge cannot be passed in a single day; we need you to demonstrate consistency. This means you cannot lock in a daily profit that exceeds 30% of your total target. The duration is one month for the beginner challenge and three months for the pro challenge. Daily stops for pros are specified as 300+200, for example: this means that if you lose 300, the system will not allow you to open any new positions today, and if you lose 500, the system will liquidate all your active positions and restrict you until the next day. That is, you will only return to trading on the following day.

5. Monitor your risks, stop losses, and maximum account drawdown!!! If you incur losses and reach the total negative value = max trailing loss, your challenge is failed, and you can only start over by purchasing the challenge again.

6. Do not start trading if your account balance does not match the terms of the subscription you purchased. Contact support, and your Account Value and Buying Power will be corrected.

7. The 30% Rule !!! means that your single most profitable trading day cannot exceed 30% of your total target (THE FINAL CHALLENGE GOAL). If you have met your profit target but have a single day (Day X) that exceeds 30% of your total target, you can either completely exclude the results of that day or keep trading until your total result (C) satisfies the rule: Day X <= 0.3C. For example: if you reach the target of 1,500 on the very first day, we will not accept the challenge completion because that single day represents 100% of your current profit. You would need to generate more profit in the following days so that 1,500 becomes equal to 30% of the total profit (i.e., a total profit of 5,000). Alternatively, you can void this single day and continue the challenge without counting it.

8. Our challenge features trading conditions that are as close as possible to real-market conditions, which is why there are minor commission fees (these are virtual, just like the challenge deposit). Here you will pay a commission of $0.015 per traded share. The Account Value will only reflect your NET profit (or NET loss, calculated with the paid commissions taken into account).

9. In our trading challenge, just like internally in the company on real accounts, you cannot open a single position exceeding 50% of your Available Funds — this is your Buying Power.

10. Upon completing the challenge, expect an email within 3-5 business days (a verification of your results will be conducted).

11. Below is the complete version of the Company's Trader Career Ladder:

This table displays the trader levels and the starting conditions at which a trader begins working at Hi2morrow at their respective level.

Accordingly, if a trader starts with a BP (buying power) of $35,000, this is our level 0. However, the trader does not remain at this level forever; conditions improve once the trader reaches a positive result equal to 20 of their daily stops. That is, if a trader is at level 0 and their daily stop is $30, they need to make a net profit of $600 to advance to the next level. Important! Level promotion occurs only after the end of a calendar month. Meaning, if your balance is +$600 at the end of the month, you can advance to the next level with enhanced trading parameters. Your balance is reset, and your payout is paid out. After that, the cycle restarts: with a BP of $43,750 and a daily stop of $37, you need to make a result of at least 37x20 = $740 to advance to the next level, and so on.

Important! The target result can be achieved over several months, rather than just one! However, calculations and accounts settling take place only upon the completion of a calendar month.

The table shows the initial (base, best) conditions of the level
As trading results in the proprietary trading firm change, the conditions will change dynamically at the beginning of each trading week relative to the current margin metric but not higher than those corresponding to your level!
Net20R – means that you must achieve this net profit to upgrade your terms to the next step, where R = your daily stop value.

12. You can improve your parameters even faster if you demonstrate consistency in accordance with our stability rating system. You will receive the detailed terms and points table upon starting work with our company.
